

BORGHESE

The Elements of Life.

... inspired by old-world tradition

Built on a heritage that dates back to the 14th century when people first sought the healing waters of the Tuscan Earth, Borghese was the first to respect the synergy between health and nature, luxury and science.

Borghese's innovative products fuse the traditional and the avant guard by combining time honored botanicals and cutting edge technology to gently, yet effectively address individual beauty concerns.

Borghese products are featured at the most elite spas throughout Asia, North America and Europe and are available at select Bloomingdales and Lord and Taylor locations.
